

WE NOMINATE

Edmund Shackelford DeLong, a fixture in the Princeton Community for some 35 years and active in a half-dozen facets of Princeton life, who this week terminated one of the longest tours of volunteer duty in the Borough's history in submitting his resignation as a member of the Housing Authority. DeLong's tenure, representing an "over-lap" of four decades, dates back to January 1, 1939. Now 61, and one of the two surviving members of the original 6-member Authority, he has since served continuously, laboring under four of the Borough's 19 Mayors, two Republicans and two Democrats: Charles R. Erdman Jr., Minot C. Morgan Jr., the late P. MacKay Sturges and Raymond F. Male.

In recent years, as both Borough and Township have come of age and have faced up to the hard facts presented by burgeoning growth, the Housing Authority has often been the target for individual and group criticisms. However, forgotten in the hurly-burly of Urban Renewal and the spate of hearings before the Zoning and Planning Boards and Mayor and Council, have been the accomplishments of DeLong and his associates who started out with 10 privately financed units, added another 10 units in the 1940's, administered barracks-type housing for World War II veterans, and in 1953 opened the 50-apartment Hageman Homes, enabling the Borough to correct what DeLong terms "atrocious, almost unbelievable living conditions."

DeLong, the Authority's secretary-treasurer for a dozen years and its chairman for the past five years, is proud of the Authority's non-political tradition and even its motivations in bringing forward plans that were destined for the discard-pile. It is his contention that, from the beginning, the Authority's members have spinned active politics and uses his own initial designation as documentation. A lifelong Democrat, an unsuccessful candidate for Borough Council on the Democratic ticket, he was appointed in 1939 by a Republican

Mayor (Erdman) on the basis of DeLong's interests and the experience he had gained in writing some 50 articles on public housing for the late "New York Sun."

A member of the University's Class of 1922 and a resident of Princeton since 1927, the Kentucky-born DeLong became a 24-hour Princetonian in 1945 with his appointment as the University's Director of Public Information with the primary responsibility for solidifying promotional plans for the Bicentennial Year (1946-47). At that point DeLong could look back upon four years as one of the Navy's ranking Public Information Officers during World War II and to the record he had compiled as a reporter and editorial "staffer" with the "Kansas City (Mo.) Star," the United Press in New York City, and the "New York Sun," described upon its demise as "the last of the great afternoon newspapers."

DeLong's 16 years with "The Sun" recall the once-popular headline history, "Only Yesterday." The first newsmen on the scene the morning of March 1, 1932, when the Lindbergh baby was reported missing in Hopewell, he was in New York's City Hall during the first years of Jimmy Walker's regime and then "covered" the meteoric rise of Fiorello LaGuardia (now of musical-comedy fame). His pre-Navy background included the Lindbergh, Byrd and Chamberlin-Levine trans-Atlantic flights; the Republican and Democratic Conventions in the 1930's; and countless interviews ranging from Babe Ruth, Jack Dempsey, Amee Semple McPherson and Texas Guinan to Allen Barkley, James Earley, James Forrestal, J. P. Morgan and Henry Ford.

For his abiding interest in all things bearing upon the well-being of this community; for his willingness to serve for 22 successive years in a post described by an associate as a "thankless assignment"; for his understanding that volunteers in public life can't hope to accomplish miracles; he is our nominee for County Reveals Proposals. The role of Princeton as a part of Mercer County is often overlooked by residents of the municipality, but this week Princetonians and their neighbors in West Windsor learned about proposals for a county-wide recreation program, one that includes areas of both Princeton and West Windsor in its broad scope.

Vincent Gerard, Mercer County Recreation Superintendent, presented to the West Windsor Planning Board last week the broad outlines of the Rutgers recreation study, made at the request of the County by students in the Rutgers' regional planning department under Dr. Ibrahim Elsamak, assistant professor of regional planning.

Throughout his presentation, Mr. Gerard emphasized that the proposals are only suggestions, and that they have not yet been adopted by the Freeholders as a plan. The Rutgers study projects its plan to the year 2,000, which gives the County 39 years to make up its mind, acquire land and begin to build.

Two of the parks lie immediately within Princeton. The study suggests that the present 87-acre Herrontown PARK HERE: The large black area on this sketch map shows the site proposed by Mercer County for a 1600-acre park along Assumpink Creek. County officials emphasize that the plan is only a suggestion and that many years may pass before it, and other County parks, become a reality. For additional information on County recreation plans, see story this page.

Wood be enlarged to 200-250 acres, and kept in its present form as an arboretum. In addition, the study sketches out a Stony Brook recreation area, (already familiar to Princeton Township residents) which would straddle Princeton and Hopewell Townships and comprise about 1,000 acres. The "Stony Brook ramble" would serve the double purpose of recreation and conservation.

In West Windsor, the plan suggests a 1600-acre Assumpink Creek Park, stretching southwest from Edinburg (see map above). Within this park, there would be golf courses, a zoo, riding paths and a stable, playing fields for a variety of games, a stadium and fieldhouse and facilities for arts and crafts.

"We like to plan multi-use recreation areas," Mr. Gerard said, "with golf for the father, playgrounds for the children and something cultural for the mother."

Where the Millstone River forms a boundary between West Windsor and Middlesex County, Mercer would like to have a river-side ramble, with wooden walks and trails, places to fish, docks and boats to rent and the usual recreations associated with woods and a river.

Down By the River Side. Another kind of river-side activity is proposed for the Delaware, where Mercer County would like to establish a marina on Crosswicks Creek. This marina would be part of the present John A. Roebling Memorial Park, and the County would like to acquire another 225 acres, bringing the Park, with the new marina, to 500 acres.

Mr. Gerard said that the County plans to establish migratory waterfowl in the park area this fall.

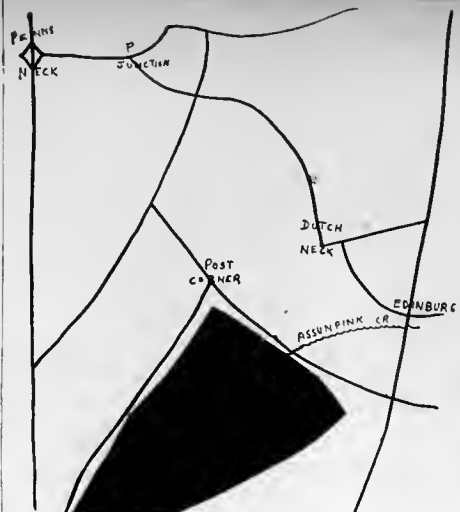

The present Mercer County Golf Course, which adjoins the County Airport, would be enlarged and developed in the area between the course and Nursery Road. Here, where there is already a lake, the County would like to construct ball fields, tennis courts, and the kind of playground that offers children a chance to ride in a real fire engine or, a real locomotive and to play in a real Indian fort.

Golf courses are regarded as prime areas by conservation and recreation officials because they provide, not only play space, but undeveloped grassy areas which absorb rains and prevent run-off. Mr. Gerard said.

From Public View. Outlining present concepts of recreation areas, Mr. Gerard told the West Windsor group that today's parks are screened by trees and landscaping, and laid out to encompass such things as botanical gardens, archery ranges and in-outdoor auditoriums, any one of which might be incorporated into an area the size of the West Windsor park.

Financing these areas would be done in several ways, Mr. Gerard said. The Federal government will provide up to 30% of the cost for land and the County 70%. Within the "Green Acres" bond issue, if passed, there would be $20,000,000 to be used by counties and municipalities, with the state matching on a dollar-for-dollar basis. Development of the parks could be by a bond issue, Mr. Gerald said, adding that in certain instances, soil and water conservation funds were also available.

"In order to qualify for funds, we must have the need, and we must have a plan," he concluded.

CITIZENS ARE CONCERNED

About Gas Station. The Mercer County Superior Court's order requiring the Borough Zoning Board to issue a permit for a gas station at the northeast corner of Witherspoon and Hulshish has caused concern among Borough residents, according to Mayor Raymond F. Male.

Burnett Griggs, owner of the restaurant at 50-60 Witherspoon, planned to tear down his restaurant and construct a two-story gas station facing Hulshish. The proposal was denied because it did not receive a majority of votes from the Zoning Board at the Board's December meeting.

ing Mr. Griggs then took the case to court.

Those who are disturbed, said Mayor Male in his weekly report, believe that a gas station would add to the difficult traffic pattern in the area, increase hazards for pedestrians and cars and detract from aesthetic and property values.

Mayor Male has advised those who have discussed the matter with him that the question of appeal is one to be decided by the Zoning Board, which is a quasi-judicial body. The Borough has 45 days to appeal the decision, which was handed down September 15.

The site in question is also involved in urban renewal and in the "blight" determination now being considered by the courts.

ROUND-UP

Mrs. Lee H. Bristol, Jr., of 210 Mercer Street saved her two-year old son, Lee, 3d, from possible strangulation last week after the child had caught his head in the push-button window of the family car. Mrs. Bristol applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, reviving the unconscious child before rushing him to the family physician.

Both Borough and Township police report that the record-breaking crowd of 41,000 for a Rutgers-Princeton football game was itself orderly and well-mannered in virtually record-breaking fashion. . . . neither police docket listed any unusual incident. . . . said the Township desk man laconically, "one spectator got stung by a bee but that always happens."

The month just ended went to the head of the Weather Bureau's records as the hottest September on record. . . . temperature in these parts averaged 72.9 to break the mark set in 1893. . . . there were eight days of readings above 90.

Rainfall was well below average, totalling a scant 2.5 inches. . . . but October is forecast to atone for that with precipitation above normal. . . . temperature readings for the month are expected to dip below normal for the 30-day period.

Person To Person

The owner of a pleasure horse is constantly concerned with blemishes on his horse. Quite naturally, he likes to display his horse to his friends, and he takes pleasure in having his horse in as good condition as possible. He knows that he and his horse are always being judged by the appearance of the horse.

What are some of the most common blemishes? They are mostly the result of trivial injuries. Although they do not interfere with the performance of the horse, or the health of the horse, they do reflect the owner's care of the horse to some extent. The question is, are these blemishes being taken care of, or are they allowed to make a scar which in turn reflects the owner's neglect of his horse?

When it comes to ears, owners usually don't have the know-how or the tools to care for them properly. Quality dealers have, though, and we hope you will come see us to keep your ear in good condition.

BANK DEFERRED
By Borough Zoning. After an acrimonious session Thursday in which proponents and opponents of the First National Bank's plan to build a Riverside branch exchanged smoke-filled opinions, the Borough Zoning Board deferred a decision on the request. It will meet this Thursday in executive session to consider the matter.

The bank proposes a 50 by 80 foot Colonial building set back 200 feet from Nassau Street, served by egress and exit roads on Riverside Drive. There would be extensive landscaping and a 74-car parking area which would be made available, after banking hours, to the Jewish Center and to the Lutheran Church of the Messiah, both of which are neighbors of the proposed bank.

The bank had appeared previously before the Board (in early 1959) and had its request denied.

Spokesmen for the bank said they had written last spring to 200 residents of the area and had received favorable replies from 70, unfavorable answers from 33 and neutral replies from 12.

Sees Traffic Relieved. Neighbors speaking in favor of the branch bank included Harry Farr, 21 Dogwood Lane, who said he approved because he believed the branch would siphon off traffic from Nassau Street.

Bertrand L. Gulik, Jr., 1082 Princeton-Kingston Road, said he approved of the branch because it would provide a needed neighborhood service. "We need it more than we need these million-dollar schools," commented Mr. Gulik. "A bank educates everybody: schools only educate boys and girls."

Arnold Hirsch, Franklin Park dentist who maintains an office at 352 Nassau, said he believed that the community had a "moral obligation" to relieve Borough traffic congestion and that the branch would help to meet this obligation.

They Oppose. In opposition, Willard Thorp, 428 Nassau, said that people who lived in the area, which is zoned for residence, sought the protection of the Zoning Board from the intrusion of business. He protested also because he said he believed the new branch would generate traffic.

"I built my home here 11 years ago," said Murray Abelson, 422 Nassau, "because it was a residential area, and I don't want to see any kind HONORED FOR LONG SERVICE: Chester A. McKinney (left) expresses appreciation of members of Princeton Methodist Church to the Rev. Charles W. of business here." Like the other objectors, Mr. Abelson also cited the possible traffic increase.

Fadiou Shehadi, 15 Snowden Lane, said "If the bank can build in this residential area, a grocery might build on Library Place."

Two other proposals, scheduled for hearing before the Board, were deferred by their sponsors or referred elsewhere. The request of Sands Associates to erect a five-story office building on Nassau Street was withdrawn indefinitely. A spokesman for the firm said the reason for the withdrawal was that one out-of-town property owner had not been notified of the hearing.

The Princeton Housing Authority's problems with the density of its proposed old age apartments were referred to the Planning Board.

let. The public hearing will be October 16 at 8 p.m.

Before passing the ordinance unanimously, Committee discussed the geologic difficulties of building underground shelters in Princeton Township, the aesthetics of above-ground shelters and the possibility that the state may pass legislation to protect home-owners from increased assessments if they build shelters.

MUSIC In Princeton

THREE CONCERTS SET
By Princeton Symphony.
The 1961-62 season for the Princeton Symphony Orchestra will open on Monday, October 30 at 8:30 p.m. when the orchestra appears in Mc-Carter Theatre with the Westminster Choir.

For this first concert, the choir and orchestra will join in a presentation of Franz Joseph Haydn's "The Seasons." The Choir will be under the direction of Warren Martin and the orchestra will be directed by Nicholas Harsanyi, its regular conductor.

In subsequent concerts, the orchestra will have as guests Mathilde McKinney and Edward T. Cone, who will appear together, and Jean Casa-desus.

Mrs. McKinney, composer, pianist and assistant professor at Westminster Choir College, will join with Mr.
Cone in the first performance of his new piano concerto,
"Nocturne in Rondo." Mr.
Cone is a member of the music department at Princeton and is also a composer and pianist. The McKinney-Cone appearance with the symphony orchestra has been planned for January 29.

On March 12, the orchestra will present Jean Casa-desus, young pianist, who is continuing the musical tradition established by his parents, Robert and Gaby Casa-desus, who have made their residence in Princeton for many years.

The Princeton Symphony Orchestra was re-organized last spring when the board of directors decided to present soloists and performers who are either residents of Princeton or identified with the community. In addition, the orchestra will invite outstanding outside musicians to perform from time to time.

The new Board of Directors consists of Mrs. C. Reinold Noyes, chairman; Malcolm Peyton, president; David Blair, vice-president; Mrs. G.
F. Dailey, secretary; Mrs. A.
L. Kress, treasurer and Mrs.
Robert Strunsky, Richard
Morgan, Mrs. James Hastings,
Mrs. Malcolm Peyton, William Scheide, Mrs. Chapin Carpenter, Edward T. Cone, Mrs.
S. B. Penick, III and Mrs.
John Borden.

ISABELLE NEF TO PLAY
Barth, Purcell, Scarlatti. Isabelle Nef, Swiss harpsichordist, will play a program of 17th and 18th century music
Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Campus Center auditorium of Princeton Theological Seminary.
Tickets are available at the office of the assistant to the president, Princeton Seminary.

Miss Nef will play two Bach works: the Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue and the English Suite in G Minor. In addition, she will play an Allemande
and a Hornpipe by Purcell, three sonatas by Scarlatti and three compositions by Couperin:
"Les Roseaux," "Les Petites Moulins a Vent," and
"Les Barricades Mystérieuses."

From the works of Rameau, Miss Nef has chosen "L'en-tretien des Muses" and "Les Cyclopes." She will conclude her program with Handel's
Suite in F Major and a Mo-

SUITED FOR MEN
University Store Provides
In the unstable, manic world of fashion, there is something reassuring about the relative quiet of men's clothes, undisturbed by furies about the "A" shape, high bosoms or the depth of a hem.

At the University Store, for example, Harris tweed jackets line up as they have for years, on the racks of the mens' department. Heather tones of brown and blue predominate, and there are bolder Shetlands with misty windowpane checks, some almost invisible, others easy to sight across the moor on a clear day. Grey, brown, olive, a few enlivened with a stroke of red, these are jackets for a lifetime, almost. ($39.95 to $55)

Business suits at the U. store are imported wool sharkskin ($75) or wool cheviot, in a fine herringbone so retiring they call it a "shadow" herringbone. Harris tweed appears again in a collection of topcoats fashioned from checks, herringbones (not so much shadow here), heathers and houndstooth checks. These are splendidly rugged coats, cut with raglan or set-in sleeves and begging for a walk in a country rain. Irish tweeds are here, too, from the tailor shops of Glen-eagles.

Dress topcoats, for men who used to wear Chesterfields, bright red and black to make are deep charcoal or deep brown herringbones.

A lot of informal outdoor wear comes from West Germany, like the duffel coat in camel-colored wool with cotton flannel plaid lining, detachable hood and brass buckles down the front. That old Loden Green is still here, too, held together with wooden thong and lined with a French back. Another Lodencoat is more like a top-coat with single-breasted cut and a semipick lapel.

Zero King has a deep spice-colored cotton suede coat lined with orlon fleece that looks like sheepskin. Square leather buttons keep things together.

The sweater of the year, if you can call it a sweater when it's also a shirt, is a blanket plaid pullover ($10.95) that can hang out or be tucked in. An orlon and wool zipper sweater comes in black, British blue, whatever that is (soft 'ole steel) or straw. Mohair and Shetland combine felicitously in a V-neck pullover with the pleasantly shaggy look that Mohair imparts. The V-neck comes around again in a two-ply cashmere for $27.50, styled as a pullover, with full fashion treatment and a color line that includes Black Burgandy, moss green, charcoal, luggage and even a good bright red.

If you wait a week or two, you can buy at the University Store a hand-woven wool necktie made by the Arapahoe Indians in Colorado. These ties are splendid with tweeds, and they have been woven in combinations like maroon, olive and black to make—well, an olive black mixture, and similar muted or non-Indian shades.

New Antiques

A self-styled "new antique" shop—which simply means, of course, a new shop devoted to antiques—has opened in the village of New Hampton in one of the community's oldest structures: a sturdy stone house.

Keystone Antiques will hold forth in an old stone dwelling on the Muscanecong, said to have been built about 1732. The shop derives the double "s" in its name from George Keys, the owner, and from the "stone" of the old house, so as you drive into New Hampton, you can watch for the two "s's" in the sign.

Associated with Dr. Keys in the shop will be Mrs. Lee Miller, former owner of an antique shop in Westfield, and former associate of The Shoddy Mill. Incidentally, Keystone's will also be a sort of put-luck shop, so you can feel safe, if your budget doesn't allow large-scale antiquing.

maroon, olive and black to make—well, an olive black mixture, and similar muted or non-Indian shades.

RASPBERRY, STRAIGHT

In Wool Suit. Deep raspberry wool tweed, cut short and straight in jacket and skirt, makes our favorite suit at Mary Gill's this fall. Three antiqued brass buttons close the short jacket and a low-set collar leaves room for your sauciest neckline.

There is no collar at all on a slightly fitted jacket of mustard wool, but an attached fringed scarf fills in the gap. (This one has buttons like a piece of peanut crunch candy). Heavy poodle cloth in emerald makes an unusual suit with a very wide, boxy jacket, double-breasted, with the collar set out a bit from the neckline. The skirt has a very deep kick pleat in front. Another suit, quite different in mood, has a cape-like jacket with short, very wide sleeves and a little round mink collar.

On the knit side, Mary Gill has a three-piece olive-brown — Continued on Page 18

PEACEFUL CO-EXISTENCE: Nikki and Neewa, the animal stars of Walt Disney's "Nikki, Wild Dog of the North," learn the virtues of a modern political concept as they prepare to face the Canadian wilderness while leashed together. The technicolor true-life adventure is continuing at the Playhouse through Saturday.

News Of The Theatres

Lee portrays a mysterious French doctor who hovers about the action. The devices used to frighten the girl include a disappearing and re-appearing corpse, weird piano music, noisy shutters, etc., etc. Unhappily, while the horror clichés are usually well-handled, the story rarely is. The villains are just all too obvious, and a twist ending tacked on by producer-writer Jimmy Sangster seems just that, tacked on. The picture was filmed on the French Riviera. Rating: effective effects, but defective dangers.

The Guns of Navarone
(October 11-24) takes about 15 minutes to get started and then never lets up in its adventure and excitement. Carl Foreman produced and wrote the two-and-a-half hour spectacle from the World War II action-adventure novel by Alistair MacLean.

Briefly, the story concerns an Allied team of saboteurs who are sent on a suicide mission to destroy two German radar-controlled guns on the Greek island of Navarone. The team has only six days to do the job because of a proposed Nazi attack on a nearby island on which are 2,000 British soldiers. The near-impossible task is beset with dangers, both of nature and the enemy.

Technically, the film is superb. Especially noteworthy are a storm at sea, probably the most brutal and punishing storm ever filmed, and the magnificent climax which is a masterpiece of editing. The weaknesses include tendencies to moralize on war (which Foreman happily keeps short and follows immediately with more action), plus a few inconsequential flaws.

Top acting honors go to Anthony Quinn as a Greek soldier, and David Niven as the demolition expert. Other performers include Gregory Peck, Anthony Quayle, Gia Scala and the gigantic guns. Rating: the best high adventure film in some time, and the most exciting American picture of the year.

THE GARDEN

Love and the Frenchwoman (October 4-7) is based on a French Institute of Public Opinion Poll, akin to the American Kinsey Report, and an original idea of Jacques

Garden Remodeled

The installation of 575 semi-reclining seats in the Garden theatre was completed early this week in an effort to provide more comfort for Princeton movie-goers. The new seats, all downstairs, are three inches wider and will provide four more inches of leg room per seat.

Manager Richard W. Knight announced that the new seats are replacing 720 of the old models. With the balcony, the capacity of the Garden is now 753. The lobby of the theater was paneled and redecorated over the summer.

Romy. Happily, the seven film vignettes (each with a different cast and director) which represent the seven ages of woman, have no relation to statistics whatsoever. The seven ages as depicted in the picture are Childhood, Adolescence, Virginity, Marriage, Adultery, Divorce and A Woman Alone For the most part, the individual stories are more successful when they are less serious. Possibly the best is the light-hearted look at Adultery by director Henri Verneuil which has a nice twist at the end. Childhood, in which a 9-year old girl is told babies come from cabbages, and Marriage, in which a couple learns that the institution requires give-and-take, also manage to be effective. In French with English subtitles and some English narration to lead into the stories. Rating: an excellent French comment on French life, which may indeed be universal.

The Pit and the Pendulum (October 9-14) is this year's Vincent Price horror film based remotely on an idea of Edgar Allan Poe. Like last year's "The Fall of the House of Usher" it is very successful in its field: it is a horror. Richard Matheson, one of the best-known fantasy and horror authors, has adapted Poe quite freely, using only three of the master's ideas: the pit, the pendulum and the title. Vincent Price, who must be getting used to these roles, is a 16th Century Spanish Don, living with the heritage of his family. This heritage is his father's murder of his wife and brother for infidelity years before in a Hollywood medieval torture chamber. John Kerr proves that horror movies are not his specialty either, and one wonders if he isn't discouraged by this time. Others in the supporting cast include Barbara Steele, Luana Anders and Anthony Carbone. In color. Rating: poor Poe.

a), estimating the annual cost of sidewalk snow removal at $18-30,000 a year, depending on equipment and snow. They reported that, with four to seven snow-removal units operating on the 106,000 feet of present Township sidewalks, the cost would be about $1000-1500 a mile. Road maintenance, exclusive of sidewalks, is now about $2,000 a mile.

In their report, Mr. Breth and Mr. Nini cited the difficulty of obtaining workmen, the damage equipment could do to property, the difficulty of budgeting when snow was so unpredictable, the problem of clearing sidewalks quickly and the resulting complaints if walks were not cleared quickly.

That's A Lot of Snow. The report also pointed out that there are 19.5 miles of walks and that the Township has built only a scant third of the walks it has on schedule. The two officials expressed the opinion that, with its continuing growth, the Township needed other things than municipal sidewalk snow removal.

Committeeman Maurice F. Healy, Jr., who has supported municipal snow-removal, commended the report, but said he thought the Township had a moral responsibility to help residents. He suggested that, in line with the Township's garbage-district policy, the municipality might act as agent for groups of homeowners who wanted to contract for commercial snow-removal.

Committeeman William Marvel, who has also supported snow-removal, said he thought Committee should explore the problem further, and investigate the duplicate use of snow equipment, possibly for grass mowing.

The report was tabled. The Traffic Safety Committee will be asked to give informal advice on which sidewalks should be given priority in a snow-removal program.

The revised Leavitt Lane improvement ordinance was passed on first reading. Public hearing is scheduled for October 16. The new ordinance repeals the old one, and provides $6,140 for improving the 20-foot street to 30 feet. The original 20 feet will be done as a local improvement with the Township bearing three-fourths of the cost and the property-owners one-fourth.

The one-fourth share is based on engineer's figures for bringing the 20-foot road up to present Township specifications. The Township's three-fourths represents the original one-third which the under the old ordinance, and all the cost of widening the road to 30 feet and installing curbs. Under the old ordinance, property-owners would have paid $3,160. They will now share $1,553.

Along with friendly well-wishes, brides are traditionally surrounded with superstitions. It used to be considered unlucky for a bride to try on a wedding gown before the ceremony. All that rain early in the week, which really was badly needed, was the forerunner of some mighty pleasant October weather. What's more, it's likely to linger a while.

It will be on the chill side at night and in the early morning — Saturday, for example, a low of 38 was recorded. All in all, the makings of a pleasant fall weekend appear to be at hand.

The Monday broadcast will deal with "United States Foreign Policy," with "The United Nations and Red China" to be discussed on Monday, October 23. Other topics will be announced for future alternate Mondays. WPRB's frequency is 103.5 megacycles.

REPLACEMENT NAMED
By Borough Democrats,
Miss Esther Dilworth of 73 Library Place, has been named to run as a Democratic candidate for Borough Council.
She replaces Robert W.
Van De Velde, who withdrew last month on the advice of his doctor.

Miss Dilworth will join Mayor Raymond F. Male and Councilman John B. Redding.
Mayor Male welcomed her to the ticket, calling her and Councilman Redding "two able and dedicated people who will be effective and constructive campaigners who will earn the respect of their Council colleagues and their constituents, as Jack Redding has already done in his first term." Miss Dilworth was a candidate for the Borough governing body in 1959, losing by 178 votes out of some 3100 cast.

CAREER UNIT BEGINS
For High School Students.
All Princeton area high school unions and seniors have been invited to attend the first meeting of Careers Unlimited at the Princeton YWCA, Aya-lon Place, on Friday, October 6, at 4 p.m.

Mrs. Katherine Jahus and Jerome Shaheen of Radio Corporation of America will describe the work of a basic research organization. They will also discuss opportunities available at RCA.

Mrs. Martin Lewis, chairman of the Y's teen committee, has announced that participation in the Careers Unlimited series will be open to members of the YMCA and YWCA free of charge.

PLAN CRAFT PROGRAM
At Valley Road, Township boys and girls have been invited again to participate in a weekly crafts program to be held each Friday and Saturday at Valley Road School starting October 6.

Junior and senior high school students may attend the 7:30-9 p.m. session Fridays, and youngsters from the third grade up, may attend the Saturday session from 10:30 to noon. The basketball program will begin after Thanksgiving.

FALL BEGINS
For Present Day Club. Fall activities for the Present Day Club will begin shortly and the roster of officers for 1961 has been announced.

Mrs. Bernard Kilgore is president of the club. Other officers are: Mrs. John Sheehan, first vice-president, Mrs.
Earl Bodinson, second vice-president, Mrs. Arthur Mor-

COOPERATION URGED

To Help Speed Mail. Postmaster Charles R. Murray of the Princeton Post Office has made several suggestions on how mail users can help provide better and faster mail service.

Paramount among Mr. Murray's suggestions is "mail often and mail early." An early mailing can save as much as one day in delivery time, according to the Postmaster.
Non-priority mail saved up during the day should be dispatched as early as possible
the following day.

Mail users can further help the post office by keeping metered mail separate from stamped mail; local mail separate from out-of-town delivery; and air mail separate from special delivery. "Be-sure," the postmaster cautioned, "that all addresses are legible and correct, that each piece has the proper amount of postage and that mail requiring special service is properly indorsed."

A final request from the postmaster: do not place or leave any mail on the post office back platform that is unattended under any circumstances. (An employee will be assigned to the platform most of the day.) And never place it in a hamper which already has mail in it.

"95" DISCUSSED
In West Windsor, The Federal government's plan to build a major highway through West Windsor Township was discussed last week by a group of home-owners and members of the West Windsor Planning Board. The Board reviewed for residents of the Township the communications between it and various County and State officials, including the letter, written last month, in which Township Committee expressed to the highway department its opposition to the road.

William Roach, West Windsor planning consultant, showed a rough map of the highway's proposed route, explaining that the road had a low priority in state highway plans, that studies of routes take a long time, and that, finally, the New Jersey Turnpike Authority has an obligation to its bond-holders to lend off freeways like "95."

The Planning Board then went on record as opposing the highway in toto, and requesting a change of route if the highway had to be built.

At the suggestion of County officials, the Board will examine two or three alternate routes acceptable to most residents. A joint meeting of townships affected by "95" may be called by the county. Planning Board officials said for a related story, see page 17.

In other business, the Board voted to keep the present size of apartments allowed by the zoning ordinance, but to send all other suggested multiple housing changes to Township Committee. Robert Holiday voted with the Board, but with reservations, expressing his belief that the ordinance should be examined again.

A. C. SMITH NAMED

To Head Chamber Committee, Abbridge C. Smith 3d has been named chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee on Planning and Zoning. The announcement was made this week by Fred M. Blaicher, Chamber president, who cited the Princeton attorney's wide knowledge of community affairs, including 11 years on the Borough Zoning Board and three on its Planning Board.

Mr. Blaicher further announced the appointment of two other attorneys, Henry S. Broad and Bryan V. Moore, to serve on the committee with Mr. Smith. Other members are Charles K. Agle, George W. Conover, Edmund D. Cook, George R. Cook 3d, Harry A. Farr 2d and Ralph S. Mason.

TOWNSHIP DOES MATTER

Marvel Compares With World. "Do the problems we are caught up with here in Princeton have any bearing at all on the unprecedented threats that exist in the world at large?"

In a campaign statement issued this week, William Marvel, Democratic candidate for re-election to Township Committee, answers "yes" to the question he poses above.

He points out that, it is only within the community that most people have an opportunity to contribute to the well-being of society, because great issues such as the nuclear weapons race, the future of the United Nations and so on, are beyond the power of single individual action.

"But the things we do in a small but important town like Princeton do have a bearing on these larger concerns," Mr. Marvel continues. "If we set high standards for ourselves... if we feel and act on deep human concern for all the people in short, if we seek and achieve excellence in everything we do locally, we are contributing in some degree to the health and vigor and power of the nation."

Mr. Marvel commenting on the fact that Princeton is the home of many foreign students and a major "port of call" for hundreds of foreign visitors a year, expresses his conviction that Princeton as an American showcase has a responsibility to measure up to high standards in local government.

In conclusion Mr. Marvel states his belief that his job which is concerned with higher education and international affairs, has given him perspectives which have been valuable in his work on Township Committee.

REPUBLICANS URGE LOOP

Also Ask for 206A. "We must cooperate in every way possible with our neighboring municipalities to achieve the construction of local roads, particularly a 'loop road' to alleviate traffic congestion on Borough streets."

The Republican candidates for Borough office in a campaign statement issued this week.

The candidates are Henry S. Patterson, for Mayor, and Joseph R. Wood and Alan W. Carrick for Council.

The candidates state their belief that, while 206A must be built to eliminate truck traffic, it will not solve all traffic problems, especially those caused by cars using Princeton streets for in-Princeton travel.

"A 'loop' road would route traffic around the Borough," the candidates state. "Despite long-standing plans for such a road, it has not been constructed. Why? This is due primarily to lack of vigorous action."

The statement recalls a 1959 meeting called by the mayor of Princeton with representatives of nearby communities, but adds that no agreement was reached and that the matter is still "tabled."

"Can we afford not to push the truck by-pass or the 'loop road' fearful that one may make the accomplishment of the other a more difficult task? If we do, we may end up with nothing, while the traffic situation finally becomes intolerable. We firmly believe that we must work for both 206A and the 'loop road.' This work must begin without further delay and inaction."

TALKS TO MARK UN WEEK
Two Panels Planned. "The United Nations and the Berlin Crisis" will be the subject of a panel discussion to be held next Wednesday at 9:30 p.m. in McCosh Hall under the auspices of the Princeton Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations, the Whig-Clio debating society of Princeton University, the United World Federalists, the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women.

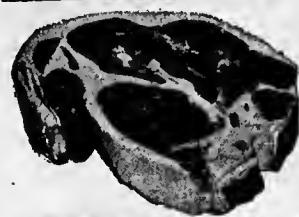

The discussion is the first of two which have been planned to commemorate United Nations Week, October 22-28. The speaker Wednesday will be K. Heinrich Knapstein, UN representative from West Germany. Joining Herr Knapstein will be George R. Wolff, press chief of Agence France; Stanley Burke of the Canadian Broadcasting Company and Victor Lange of the University's German department.

For the second program, on October 18, the speaker will be Sir Patrick Dean, ambassador to the UN from the United Kingdom who will speak on "The United Nations and Its Problems." Dr. Melvin Gottlieb will serve as moderator.

BE FIREFMAN FOR A DAY
Rocky Hill Invites Public. Members of the Rocky Hill Hook and Ladder Company Number One have invited residents of the area to be "a fireman for a day" by participating in the Firemen's Fall Festival, scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 20, 21 and 22.

The weekend's chief event will be the dedication of a new all-weather canvas pavilion to replace the one lost to storm damage. In addition, members of the company will receive a citation from the National Fire Protection Association in recognition of work done by the volunteers.

An informal column in which Henry Patterson, Republican Candidate for Borough Mayor, talks with Princeton Chimes on local issues

W. H. Tegarden
25 Edwards Place

Q I have tried to contact our present mayor on occasion and was informed that I should see him Friday night at the "Tell It to the Mayor" session. Will you be available to the public on more than just one night?

A Yes, I certainly will. When I accepted the nomination for Mayor I was perfectly aware of the fact that it could be a 7 day a week proposition. You can be assured I will be available to Borough citizens more than just on Friday nights.

A. T. Randall
103 Patton Avenue

Q The trucks in Princeton today remind me of the New York garment district at nine A.M. Nobody has done anything about it. What are you going to do about it?

A The answer to trucks in Princeton is the construction of Route 206-A Bypass. There has been a lot of talk about this but so far no one has done anything about it. I plan to get 206-A built by demonstrating to the State that our historic community is being destroyed by the ever increasing number of through trucks.

Q I am very interested in what can be provided in the way of fall-out shelters. Do you share this interest and concern and if so, as Mayor, what do you plan to do about it?

afternoon and evening of October 20. On Saturday evening, there will be a costume dance and on Sunday a concert featuring the John-Manville Choral Group of 50 voices.

Rocky Hill's volunteer fire company was formed in 1902, and still has, among its relics, the hand-drawn chemical fire rig used almost 60 years ago. Today, the company has $100,000 worth of buildings and equipment.

CANDIDATES WILL SPEAK
At Democratic Meeting. Candidates for office at the municipal and county levels will speak next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. before members of the Princeton Democratic Club. The regular monthly meeting will be held in the Chestnut Street Firehouse.

Candidates who will be present are Mayor Raymond F. Male; Borough Councilman John J. Redding and Miss Esther C. Dilworth, candidate for Borough Council; State Senator Sido L. Ridolfi, Assemblyman Vincent R. Panaro, Charles E. Farrington and Edward J. Sweeney, Surrogate John E. Curry and Freeholders George Sutch, Frank Black and Charles Kovacs.

DEMOCRATS WILL MEET
In West Windsor. The three Democratic candidates for Mercer County Freeholder will be guest speakers at the next meeting of the West Windsor Democratic Club.

The candidates are George Sutch, Frank Black and Charles Kovacs, all of whom are incumbents. The meeting will be held next Tuesday, at 8 p.m. in the Princeton Junction Firehouse, Alaxander Road.

TWO DRIVERS FINED
For Careless Driving. Magistrate Theodore T. Tams, Jr. fined Frank Ferrara, 48, 275 Mt. Lucas Road, $15, and Arnold R. Voorhees, 28, Highway 27, $25, on Monday for careless driving. Mr. Ferrara pleaded not guilty.

In criminal court, two University students, Robert P. Noble of 2 Blair Tower and Michael J. Paine of 522 Cuyler Hall, both 21, were each fined $20 by Magistrate Tams as disorderly persons. They were accused of taking trash from a disposal can on the corner of Nassau and Chambers and throwing it into the street.

CHAIRMEN NAMED
For Rummage Sale. Mrs. Elmer Chase, general chairman for the annual fall rummage sale of the Princeton Hospital Aid Committee, has announced the appointment of 19 women as committee chairmen.

They are Mrs. Alonzo Church, Mrs. Edmund Hally, Mrs. Robert Pease, Mrs. Albert Van Eerden, Mrs. Ray Dawson, Mrs. Walker Stevenson, Mrs. Weldon Young, Mrs. Santo Vicino, Mrs. Harry Olson, Mrs. Marshall Sittig, Mrs. John Nelson, Mrs. Edward L. Marshall, Mrs. Vreeland Flagg, Mrs. Frank Lawson, Mrs. O. Kline Fulmer, Mrs. William Runtz, Mrs. Wendell Carlson and Mrs. F. H. Nuvell. The rummage sale will be held during the week of October 16 at the Harrison Street firehouse.

PBA SPONSORS COURSE
In Hunting Safety. The Princeton Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, Local No. 130 will sponsor a course in hunting safety for boys and girls between 14 and 21 beginning on Saturday, October 24. Such a course must be completed in order to obtain an initial hunting license.

Classes will be held at the National Guard Armory, River Road J. J. Lawson, a member of the Mercer County Hunter Safety Instructor's Association, will be instructor. Patrolman Walter V. Emaan is chairman for the program.

Interested persons must register for the course at either Borough or Township Police headquarters before Saturday, October 14. The schedule of classes follows:

Rabies Clinics Set

Rabies clinics for all dogs in the area will be held Monday through Friday at different locations throughout the Borough and Township.

Borough Health officer David T. Blake reported that the rabies shot is compulsory for all dogs over six months of age. Owners who fail to comply must have their dogs inoculated privately in order to obtain their new license.

The location of the clinic for each day: Monday, garage behind Borough Hall; Tuesday and Thursday, Township garage, next to Township Hall; Wednesday, Chestnut Street firehouse; Friday, Borough garage on North Harrison Street. The clinic will be open each day from 4 to 6. There is no charge.

Saturday, October 21, 8 a.m. to noon, Friday, October 27, 7 to 10 p.m.; Saturday, October 28, 8 a.m. to noon.

RECEPTION PLANNED
For Witherspoon Parents. The Parent-Teacher Association, Borough Elementary Schools, will hold a "Back to School" night for parents of Witherspoon School children on Wednesday, October 11, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Parents will be able to meet the school staff and attend a "sample" day of classes, following their children's schedules. Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria following the program.

GIRLS CLUB TO MEET
For First Fall Meeting. The Business and Professional Girls Club of the Princeton YWCA will hold its first fall meeting on Wednesday, October 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the YWCA, Avalon Place.

Do You Have Trouble Hatching Ideas?

To: Princeton Anthroposophists*
From: Dr. Alfred de Grazia, Editor
American Behavioral Scientist
Princeton, New Jersey

Each issue of The American Behavioral Scientist is a busy incubator of lively thoughts in the social sciences. Covering a wide range of topics, the ABS brings to its readers brief but knowledgeable views of the rapidly expanding science of man.

The ABS carries news of the social science world—government and science, foundation grants, research projects. Its features are varied—it may deal with the elites of Africa or the training of flatworms, the first alphabet of the Near East or the future of a computerized society. The ABS is the magazine that fills the gap between the reader's specialized field and the mass media.

The ABS makes no bones about where it stands on important issues; and its format is as lively and colorful as some of its opinions. "Fun to read," declares Herbert Simon, famed computer theorist of Carnegie Tech. August Heckscher, Director of the Twentieth Century Fund, adds that ABS has "much information that is not available elsewhere and certainly not presented in any other place in so lively and individual a form."

Try the ABS. If it doesn't add something to your life, we will sadly refund your money or joyfully transfer your subscription to an indigent small college somewhere in the world.

ALUMNAE TO MEET

Fashion Show Planned. The Princeton Alumnae of Hollins College will hold a luncheon meeting on Tuesday, at 1:30 in the home of Mrs. Robert L. Hoke, 6 North Main Street, Cranbury.

The group will discuss plans for a fashion show scheduled for November 28. The show will feature clothes from Bellows, Inc.

BIRTH LIST

Hospital Lists 15 Arrivals. A total of 15 children, eight of them girls, were born to area residents last week in Princeton Hospital.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fields, 237 State Road, September 24; Mr. and Mrs. William Dougherty, 411-B Butler Avenue, September 25; Mr. and Mrs. Murray Lampert, 84 Mason Drive; Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Ely, Hillside Avenue, Monmouth Junction, both on September 26.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Allen, 27 Mason Drive, September 27; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cohen, 400-C Butler Avenue, September 29; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Roszel, 118 Clinton Street, Hightstown; Mr. and Mrs. John Bozowski, 33 Maplewood Avenue, Cranbury, both on September 30.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Chamberlain, Jr., 251 Stockton Street; Mr. and Mrs. David E. Judson, 88 Mark Twain Drive, Hamilton Square, both on September 24; Mr. and Mrs. Valdo H. Viglielmo, 120 Prospect Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Krukowski, Route 130, Cranbury, both on September 25.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. John Stoner, 218-A Halsey Street, September 27; Mr. and Mrs. John Merritt, Woodsville, September 29; Princeton Junction, September 30.

WHAT'S ON THE AGENDA?

For Borough Council. When Borough Council meets Tuesday, its members will hear a special report from the Public Safety Committee on the policy of police promotions in light of the retirement on November 1 of Chief Raymond Mondone.

Mayor and Council will also hold a public hearing on the new ordinance to waive the building permit fee for fall-out shelters.

In an agenda preparation meeting Monday, Mayor and Council discussed traffic and parking proposals, safety, the demolition of the Lamplighter restaurant, pending real estate transactions, Harry's Brook, the Junior Museum and planning and zoning matters.

TV STATIONS MONITORED

By AAUW. The Princeton branch of the American Association of University Women participated in monitoring 21 TV stations in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware last week. The project was part of an effort to gain Channel 12 as an educational station, and the monitoring was requested by the FCC to show that the type of programs to be offered by the educational group seeking the Channel 12 license is not currently available.

Area residents, who watched Channel 7 from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m., were Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. E. J. Shaw, Mrs. John Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs. R. H. Parmenter, Mrs. H. E. Crane, Mrs. F. V. Shallcross, Mrs. J. W. Calby, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn B. Mann, Mrs. K. C. Cooley, Mrs. Jesse F. Pariso, Mrs. Henry Kunagi, Mrs. E. E. Hoisington, Miss Ely van Aalten, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bucklan and Mrs. Herbert Hasenzahl.

Channel 12 has not been in operation since 1958 when the owners went bankrupt. There are three applicants for the franchise, including the educational group which operates WHYY in Philadelphia. The other two are commercial applicants. Channel 12 would be available to viewers in the Princeton area, with the transmitter in Glassboro and the studio in Wilmington, Del.

RESIDENTS SCORE PSC

For Untidy Appearance. Acting on complaints from nearby residents that the rest rooms of the Princeton Shopping Center were unclean and its grounds covered with trash, Mrs. Marcella Farley and Dr. William Kleinberg of the Princeton Township Health Department conducted a tour of the Center last Thursday.

Three firms in the Center—Acme, A & P and the Ranch Room—were ordered to clean up their premises. As a result of the tour, the A & P was dropped from a "B" rating to a "C" rating. The other two retained their "B" ratings.

Why I Plan to Vote Republican Democratic

By Mrs. Charles B. Straut

By William A. Dobson

The residents of the State of New Jersey are truly fortunate in having the opportunity to elect James P. Mitchell as governor in November. By every test of qualification he is a "big man for a big job". His career in industrial relations goes back to the late 1920s when he was employed by Western Electric Co. Subsequently, he held such posts as Director of Personnel for the War Department, Director of Personnel for Macy's, Vice President for Operations of the Federated Department Stores.

He has also been a member of the Personnel Advisory Board of the Hoover Commission, Assistant Secretary of Army for Manpower and, of course, Secretary of Labor under President Eisenhower from 1953 to 1961. The posts which he has held, exclusive of government service, indicate the high regard management has for his ability in the field of industrial relations.

At the same time many leading labor leaders have gone on record with statements that they consider Mr. Mitchell to have been an outstanding Secretary of Labor. As evidence of their support, ninety-five top leaders gave Mr. Mitchell a testimonial dinner at which they paid tribute to his intellectual statesmanship, human understanding, wise counsel and good sense in providing extraordinary leadership as Secretary of Labor.

In addition to the prerequisites of integrity and character, we need a governor who is a top administrator and has common sense as well as skill and experience. Mr. Mitchell is a proven administrator, having run a nationwide government department with a budget bigger than New Jersey's.

We need a man who is able to appreciate the problems of business and at the same time to understand labor's interests. On all these scores, Mr. Mitchell is uniquely qualified by his background.

He has indicated that he will work to improve the business climate in the State and endeavor to halt the flight of industry and jobs from New Jersey and to reverse the unemployment trend. His initial approach to solving these problems will be to set up a full-time permanent Economic Development Council with the purpose of attracting new business to New Jersey.

This positive approach is vital because other states are working to this end, and New Jersey obviously will not share in future growth by taking a passive attitude. Along the same lines he will establish a Small Business Board promote the natural resources of the State, step up the lagging development of water resources, improve commuter services, etc.—just to mention a few of the pressing problems he plans to review and act on positively.

As to the important question of taxation, Mr. Mitchell has specifically said he would revise the business inventory tax in order to simplify its operation and make it more equitable. In general, he plans to institute a thorough investigation and review of New Jersey's tax system and then to submit his recommendations for overall tax reforms, rather than commit himself to campaign promises made under pressure.

In short, I plan to vote for James P. Mitchell for governor because I feel he is unusually well qualified for the office—a man who combines genuine political stature with a record of getting things done.

TOWN TOPICS' DEADLINE for the insertion of new classified ads, is 5 p.m. on Tuesday.

On Tuesday, November 7, the citizens of New Jersey will elect . . . or in another sense . . . hire the man who is to guide the fortunes of our State during the next four years. Between now and November 6, we, his future employers, deserve the opportunity to study the application blank of each of the candidates and make up our minds as to which we feel is the most qualified.

As a registered Republican, a business executive, and a New Jersey employer, I have examined the applications as they have been presented and have decided that I want to hire Mr. Hughes.

I would urge all to examine their records and, in all good conscience, vote for the man you feel is best. I would urge you to make this decision in favor of Judge Hughes.

Not because he is a younger and more dynamic man than Mr. Mitchell. Not because Judge Hughes is a college graduate with a law degree from Rutgers while Mr. Mitchell would have to solve the intricate problems of the State with only a high school education.

Not because Judge Hughes has spent the years since World War II here in this State as a highly honored Superior Court Judge, as well as an eminently successful lawyer in private practice, while Mr. Mitchell has been moved from one appointive bureaucratic position to another outside of this State. Not because Judge Hughes has spoken out on the issues at hand while Mr. Mitchell has avoided the issues and will not face Judge Hughes in open debate.

Yes, I would ask you to consider all of these things, but I would urge you to make your decision on the basis of courage if it takes courage to be successful, and we need A COURAGEOUS AND SUCCESSFUL MAN.

Judge Hughes has demonstrated this trait, but where was Mr. Mitchell, our Secretary of Labor for the last eight years? Where was Mr. Mitchell when Vice President Nixon had to step in to bring a settlement in the most recent national steel strike?

Even worse, where was our timid and arthritic federal bureaucracy that not only allowed the shameful undermanning of our multi-billion-dollar-a-year missile program by a few reckless union leaders, but allowed this hijacking to continue for years.

I would urge you to read "The Scandal of Our Missile Program" in the August Reader's Digest or to study "How Labor Snafued Our Space Race" in the October issue of True Magazine from which I quote . . .

"Between late 1956, when the program started, and March 31, 1961, the United States suffered the effects of 327 strikes at 22 missile bases. In this period the lost time, which can never be regained, amounted to 162,872 man-days.

"The strikes at the ICBM sites amount to a work force of 1,000 men standing idle for more than five months."

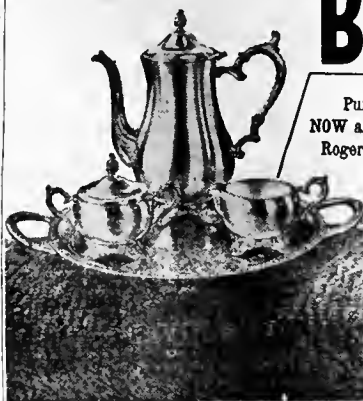

New Jersey is facing a trying future. We need to hire a strong leader. Let's all look at the application blanks and pick the man whose record shows him to have the experience, the ability, and the courage to face up to our problems and solve them. Let's hire the best man, Judge Hughes.

Will Discuss Superhighway.

A citizen's committee formed in West Windsor Township will hold a public meeting on Wednesday, October 11, at 8 p.m. in the West Windsor Fire House to discuss the various aspects of Interstate Route 95. As reported in TOWN TOPICS earlier this month, the federal interstate defense highway is proposed to run through the Township parallel to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at a distance of 200-2,000 yards from the railroad.

The public meeting is being planned by a group of homeowners calling themselves the "Citizens' Committee on the Optimum Location of Route 95." The informal committee, which has held several smaller meetings already, is headed by William A. Stuart, Cranbury Road, Princeton Junction.

The committee has been attempting to obtain more information about the proposed location of the road and also to interest other groups in the discussion, according to Mr. Stuart. "We are very anxious to work through the regular agencies of the government," he said. Already the Township Committee, the School Board and the Planning Board have been helping the committee.

The general feeling of the group is that the road should be placed farther than 2,000 yards from the tracks, Mr. Stuart stated. The proposed route, he noted, runs not only through several homes but also through the already-purchased site of a new elementary school which should be completed by fall of 1963. Construction on that school would begin next spring.

Location is Problem. "We want to have a say about the road, in the interest of the whole township," Mr. Stuart said. "That is why we have formed the committee and are trying to keep the question before the public. We want to make sure that the people who should make the decision do make it before it is made for them in Newark or Washington."

The major problem is not the road itself, but the location. "Roads must be placed somewhere," Mr. Stuart commented, "and as citizens of the state we must accept the fact that it will go through our community. We feel, however that we ought to have a voice in its location; this is also in the best interests of the highway itself."

Mr. Stuart pointed out that the citizens of Groton, Conn., also on Interstate 95, were able to work with state officials in placing the route to everyone's best interests. "That is exactly what we are trying to do here," he concluded. "We know it's possible, because it has been done before."

COFFEE HOUR PLANNED

By Republicans. Candidates for Mayor and Council on the Republican ticket will be guests at a coffee hour Sunday, October 8, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kleiher, 8 Robert Road.

The guests will be Henry Patterson, candidate for mayor, Joseph Wood and Alan Carrick. All interested Borough voters are invited.

with Chame jacket banded in top-stitched grey around the sleeves, down the front and across the tops of the four little pockets. (This color, incidentally, is called Aztec. Don't spill the Inca on it.) Knit gets dressed up in a textured black dress with round neck and black satin belt. A double-breasted knit suit has a stitched pleat skirt for fullness, and a cuffed sleeve jacket for style. The suit is olive green with brass buttons.

Ladies who have to stretch to attain five feet four, will always respond to Mr. Mort, who sketches with them in mind. A one-piece dress that looks clearly like a two-piece, has a skirt with slash pockets, and what looks like a little overblouse top (It's really attached, and is part of the dress). Comes in emerald and a color that looks like fire-thorn berries.

Here's a dress with a fringed, sleeveless overblouse, and a chemise topped skirt. The fabric is rich blue basketweave, overlaid with geometric embroidery in lilac, emerald and purple. The overblouse effect is achieved

FIRE LEAVES PERMANENT SHADOW: A pile of sawdust and debris (visible in the foreground) in front of this almost completed home in Braeburn, a group of custom-built homes on a 10-acre tract at Braeburn Drive and Snowden Lane, caught fire early Thursday afternoon, leaving behind this clearly-defined charred silhouette. Nearby shingles, the garage door, some bricks and rafters were charred. Fire Chief Carl Bobb blames a discarded cigarette as the probable cause. (Staff Photo) in a deep brown dress with zored skirt, a lowered waistline accented by a brown satin sash, and raglan sleeves. That tent dress, a capital "X" if we ever saw one, is camel wool flannel with beige knit short sleeves to the elbow. No collar. Wear it with a belt, if you're shy, or in all its flaring splendor if you're bold.

Carlye's wool jerseys are quiet shades of blue, rose or grey, sometimes sparkled with vertical tucks that look like pleats on a softly flaring skirt, or with a surprise bodice closed by a leopard-skin belt.

Take to stir and mix? Mary Gill has Majestic's separates in pumpkin or aqua, with three different print blouses or overblouses, slacks, sweaters (fur blend slipovers), solid plaid, hip-stitched, gored, pleated or straight skirts... who could ask for more?

BAGGED FOR FALL.

Of Ice and Purses. For many Princeton citizens, the ice-bucket is almost as important on a football Saturday as tickets to the game, and out of sympathy for these tax-payers, The Cummins Shop has a table full of ice-buckets, top price $18, and quite a few melted down below that point.

A plain Jane of an ice-tub in sponge plastic, set inside a real wicker basket ($4.95) will probably keep things as cold or hot, in this case) as the $15 brass-banded walnut finish tub. Tall as a highball, and just as accommodating to the ice-cube.

A Florentine gold and black medallion ice-bucket is the queen of the collection. Rolling in elegance.

Well, to leave the bar for a moment and turn to other aspects of life, we find a group of women's handbags designed for the fall and winter wallet-carrying season. Jute, woven in a tweed pattern of grey or brown, makes a leather-trimmed bag that's wide and deep or long and narrow, depending on your preference. Burlap combines with bamboo in a bag held together by the bamboo as it slips through a collection of large brass rings. Lots of colors for this. Cut velvet and tapestry bags are big—literally—this fall. One is 12 inches square, although you can get a small satchel if you want to. A tapestry clutch bag displays brilliant red roses ("poppies") against black. Another is quiet as a mouse, in natural wool with a brief flower peeping up from the underside.

A leather carry-all in beige or avocado, has a slanted top which gives it a pleasing one-sided air when carried by the draw-string. But the real elephant sized prize of the Cummins' collection is a bag with the dimensions of a mail pouch, consisting of two deep, wide pouches, each facing out, held together at their sides and, in being held together, providing a deep well between them for glasses, handkerchiefs or even 25 pounds of potatoes. The width in these two pouches comes from some wide gusseting.

Incidentally, The Cummins Shop has again those bright wooden birds from Scandinavia, some only half an inch long. They're 20c and 50c.

BUSINESS In Princeton

RESEARCH LAB STARTED
In Monmouth Junction. Ground has been broken for a new research laboratory on Ridge Road, Monmouth Junction, by AeroChem Research Laboratories, Inc. The building will add 10,000 square feet of floor space to the company's laboratory area.

Construction will begin early in November and the laboratory is scheduled for completion by mid-April 1962. Designed by Kassler and Weishecker of Princeton, the new structure will house a library, offices for senior research personnel and laboratories for 60 people.

Dr. H. F. Calcote, director of research, said AeroChem plans to expand its current work in the fields of solid propellant research, aerothermochemistry, the physical chemistry of combustion and gaseous electronics. AeroChem is a subsidiary of Pfaudler Permutit, Inc.

MOZART AND STOCKS
To Be Featured. "The Stock Market" is the topic chosen by W. Brewster Winton, vice-president of Chemical Bank New York Trust Company for his talk before the second session of the "Money and Music" series sponsored by Princeton Bank and Trust Company. He will speak next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Princeton High School.

The "Music" half of Wednesday's program will consist of Mozart and Tchaikovsky, performed by a chamber orchestra under Nicholas Harsanyi. The chamber group, consisting of members of the Philadelphia Orchestra, will play Mozart's Divertimento in

D. K. 136, and the Tchaikovsky Serenade for Strings in C, Op. 48.

Mr. Winton has served his bank since 1933 in various capacities, including manager of the investment analysis department and investment trust officer.

JOINS HENDERSON

D. E. Stuart New Associate. Douglas E. Stuart of 12 Pardee Road is now associated with the real estate firm of John T. Henderson Associates, 341 Nassau Street.

A life-long Princetonian, Mr. Stuart graduated from Princeton with the Class of 1935. An early employee of the American Institute of Public Opinion and the Audience Research Institute, he served for a number of years as editor of the Princeton Alumni Weekly and managing editor of the Public Opinion Quarterly. Following wartime service in the Army, during which he earned a commission, he has been associated with a national magazine publishing company as a research executive.

In announcing Mr. Stuart's appointment to his firm, Mr. Henderson said, "Mr. Stuart brings to the real estate field an affection for and a knowledge of Princeton second to none, both town and gown, old and new, as well as the obvious advantages of a successful business career. I am delighted that he is joining me as an associate."

OGLETREE TAKES POST

Canteen Dance Saturday

The Princeton Teen Canteen will hold the first in a series of weekly dances at the Nassau Street School on Saturday at 8:30.

Students who present an application for membership in the Canteen signed by their parents and who pay a $1 membership-card fee will be admitted to the dance. Guests will not be permitted at the first two Canteen dances. Weekly fees are 30 cents and 50 cents for special nights.

The adult and teenage boards of the Canteen have reminded parents of members that they will be requested to act as chaperones for at least one dance during the year. All Princeton area students of high school age (13-19) and one-year alumni of Princeton High School are eligible for membership in the Canteen.

sion of EMR produces standard time- and frequency-multiplex telemetry instruments used in missile, aircraft and spacecraft testing. Mr. Ogletree holds several patents in digital computer circuitry and television.

$1961 IS GOAL

Of UNICEF Drive. A drive to collect $1961 for the children of the world will be conducted October 28 by high school students who are members of the Princeton Church Youth Council which is sponsoring the collection. Co-chairmen of the event are Susan Rugg and Barbara Alden.

Other participants include Linda and Gail Blattenberger, Bonny Schraeder, Joan Barrenholtz, Lee Hymerling, Kenneth Maxwell, Karen Anderson, Linda Almgren and Myrna Hinds. Also, Kenneth Bernhardt, Peggy Waletzky, Carol Evans, Karen Holman, Al Heuschkel, Pam Rosenthal and Stephen Turitzin.

The drive will supplant the usual "trick or treat" activity children engage in on Halloween eve.

WCS PLANS SALE

At Methodist Church. The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Princeton Methodist Church will hold a rummage sale at the church on Thursday, October 12, and Friday, October 13.

Sale hours on October 12 will be from 9 to 5 and from 9 to 3 on October 13. Donations will be received at the church for three days preceding the opening of the sale.

IT'S STORY TIME

At Public Library. The Princeton Public Library will hold two weekly "Story Time" periods, one for pre-school age children and another for children in grades one through four, beginning this week.

The story session for younger children will be held on Tuesdays from 10:30 to 11, and the other story session will be held on Wednesdays from 3:30 to 4. Parents have been asked to bring their children to the Library's Children Department and to stay in the Library, although not with their children, during the story times.

DISCUSSIONS PLANNED

On Current Books. The Women's Division will hold the first in a series of book

Why should you buy a SYLVAN POOL now?

here are the reasons why

1. Now is the time when Sylvan Pools' prices are the lowest ever on all 50 custom shapes & sizes. Choose an existing Sylvan shape or design your own with Sylvan.
2. Sylvan's prices now mean that you can save $250 up to $650 depending upon size. Example: a 20' x 40' pool priced at $4790 may now be purchased for $4390.
3. Pool shown above—the 3 pools in 1 Sylvan "S" —may now, for the first time, be purchased at no extra cost. Has clear swimming, separate diving & wading area.
4. By buying & installing your pool now you have the opportunity for arranging and completing all your landscaping before the next full swimming season arrives.
5. Buy and install your Sylvan Pool now and be assured of swimming from the first warm day next season. This means you will have 100% usage of your pool next year.
6. The savings you'll enjoy for installation now may, in many cases, cover the purchase of a Pool Heater that will extend swimming throughout the month of October.
7. A Sylvan-engineered pond permits the free-forming of ice during the winter months. Thus, you can ice-skate and make your pool a year 'round recreation center.
8. Take advantage of Sylvan's 14 years of vast experience which includes over 2400 pools built to date including hotels, motels, apartment houses, etc.

reviews and discussion groups on Wednesday, October 18, at 9:30 a.m. in the Princeton Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street.

Open to all interested women, the meetings will feature a discussion of current books. William Lederer's "A Nation of Sheep" will furnish the topic of the first discussion and review session.

Miss Margaretta Barr, librarian at the Princeton Public Library, will be moderator, and Miss Barbara Light, assistant librarian, will serve as reviewer. Mrs. George Goldsmith and Mrs. Thomas Stix will assist as panel members. Refreshments will be served. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. Mortimer Feldman, Mrs. Eli Zuckheim, Mrs. Marvin Blumenthal, Mrs. Benjamin Miller, Mrs. Goldsmith and Mrs. Maurice Gluckman.

FUR SHOW PLANNED

By Lions Club Auxiliary. The Ladies Auxiliary of the Princeton Lions Club will hold a card party and fur fashion show on Wednesday, October 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the Chestnut Street firehouse. The Auxiliary's regular monthly meeting will be on Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Nassau Inn.

The House of Kudra, Trenton, will stage the fur show. Prizes, gifts and refreshments have been planned. Tickets are $2 each and may be obtained from any Auxiliary member or at the door on the night of the card party.

Representatives of Bernmaine Cosmetics, New Brunswick, will present a make-up demonstration at the meeting on Monday.

BURT WILL SPEAK

At Newcomer's Meeting. Nathaniel Burt of 108 Mercer Street, author, will speak on the topic "Princeton Past and Present" at a meeting of the Newcomer's Club on Wednesday, October 11, at 9:30 a.m. at the YWCA.

Mr. Burt is a long-time Princeton resident and a graduate and undergraduate work at Princeton University. One of his books, "Make My Bed," has Princeton as a background.

All women who have lived in the Princeton area for less than two years are eligible for membership in the Newcomer's Club. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Howard Brackney, membership chairman.

ENROLLMENT UP

In West Windsor. The elementary school enrollment in West Windsor is now 655, an increase of 48 boys and girls over the enrollment at the end of the school year in June, according to a report made last week by Frank J. Walton, superintendent of schools.

Mr. Walton told the Board of Education that 91 new pupils had moved into the Township, but that 50 had left during the summer.

The Board also heard a report from the secretary that the per pupil cost of education in West Windsor last year was $600.41, representing an increase of $40 over the previous year.

IVY OPENER ON TAP

Saturday against Columbia. A Columbia eleven that rocked Ivy circles with a surprising 50-0 victory over Brown is anxiously awaiting Princeton's invasion of Baker Field Saturday. Already credited with having their best team in a decade, the Lions are anticipating their first triumph over the Orange and Black since 1945.

The New Yorkers' strength stems from much the same situation that made Rutgers a solid outfit: a veteran backfield operating behind a big line which also has its share of experienced players. Quarterback Tom Vassell (out with an ankle injury when Columbia came to Palmer Stadium a year ago) is the chief artist of the Lions' wing-T. Starting the Tigers back to a surprise with him will be halfbacks Tom Haggerty and Russ Warren and fullback Tom O'Connor.

Vassell is a dangerous passer, good enough to rank third in the league last year after missing the first part of the season. The Lions have good deception, average speed and rolled over Brown for the unusual total of 406 yards—295 of them on the ground.

Up front, the big man is 250-lb. Bob Asack, an all-Ivy selection as a tackle. A 215-lb. center, Lee Black, is another key player in the Columbia line, which averages well over 200 and will outweigh Princeton's by better than seven pounds per man.

Parallel With 1960. The pre-game picture is very much a duplicate of last year's, when Princeton lost to Rutgers, 13-8, and Columbia ran over Brown, 37-0. On that occasion, Dick Colman brought the Tigers back to a surprise

Saturday's outcome hinges to some degree on the question of just how bad Brown is. Game to Be Broadcast Princetonians planning to hear Saturday's Princeton-Columbia game on the radio will have their choice of four stations.

On the AM dial, it will be broadcast over WIP, Philadelphia, 610; WVNJ, Newark, 620; WBUD, Trenton, 1260; and WPRB, Princeton University, 640. WPRB will also carry it on FM, 103.5.

For those going to the game, it is worth remembering that the kickoff is at 1:30—half an hour earlier than the October starting time in Palmer Stadium.

six carries from his wingback slot.

• Good linebacking, despite pre-game inexperience. Junior Bruce Hartman was particularly singled out by Dick Colman in this respect.

• Tailback depth. Despite his infrequent appearance on offense last year, Riley used his interference beautifully. Sophomores Pete Poreitis and Hugh MacMillan give every indication of having first varsity seasons the equal of the departed Hugh Scott and Jack Sullivan.

Chance Missed. The teams traded touchdowns in the first half, Princeton going 65 yards in eight plays, fullback Bill Merlino plunging over from two yards out, and Rutgers retaliating by sending Simms over in similar fashion after marching 71 yards in nine plays. Playing percentages, the Tigers booted a one-point conversion; Rutgers took the gamble and an 8-7 lead when Sam Mudie swept around right end for two points to cap its touchdown.

The Tigers lost their best

THE YANKEES IN A WALK: There is no doubt whatsoever in the minds of Pete Fiumenoro (left) and Dan Sculerati who is going to win the 1961 World Series, currently in progress. Dan picks the Yankees to whitewash Cincinnati four games to none; Pete predicts the Reds will manage to win one. Others aren't so high on the Yanks, however—see below. (Staff Photo.)

Question of the Week

Question: Who do you think will win the World Series and how many games do you think it will last?
Where asked: Nassau Street.

Diek Kenarney, 15 Park Place, carpenter: I think the Yankees. I think they've proved that they are the best team going under pressure. With their hitters, Cincinnati will have to pitch to every man. Every one of the Yankees—Mantle, Maris, Howard, Berra, and Skowron—can hit the long ball. Also, the Yankees have a lot of spirit; they are a very close knit team. The Yanks should take it in five. I think they have a lot more going for them than they did last year.

Pete Fiumenoro, 644 State Street, bartender, Ivy Inn: I pick the Yanks to win in five games. They have too much power. I give Cincinnati the edge in pitching but the Yankees simply have too many sluggers that can put the ball away.

Daniel Sculerati, Cranbury, painter, Yankees in four straight. The Yanks have too much class, too much stick behind the plate. There is power from the top to the bottom in the Yankee lineup. The Cincinnati pitching staff doesn't have the depth the Yankee staff has.

James Sweeney, 19 Murray Place, business agent for Plasterers Union: I think Cincinnati will win in seven games. Whitely Ford will win a couple of games for the Yanks but I am going to stay cool with O'Toole, talk turkey with Purkey and go all the way with Joey Jay. I don't think Mantle and Maris are going to do much of anything in this series.

Mrs. Mary Meeker, 21 Greenville Avenue, waitress: The Yankees in four games, of course. Who do you think? They're a better team; they have Maris and Mantle. Cincinnati doesn't have a chance.

John Neil, 23 Greenville Avenue, clerk: The Yankees, naturally. They're number one. They have the best players and the most money. I think they'll beat Cincinnati in seven. It's going to be a rough series because I think everybody is tired. The Reds are good, too—that's why it'll go seven games—but not quite good enough.

John Litostansky, 21 Hillside Road, mechanic's helper: I'll say Cincinnati in five. Those Yankees are going to go right down the drain like they did last year. I think Cincinnati has the better pitching staff. They haven't won a pennant in 21 years so you can be sure they are going to try like hell. It should be a good scrap.

Bruce James, Collingswood, plumber: Cincinnati in five—that's a foregone conclusion. I think they have the better team. I think they have more depth, better hitting and I know they have a better fielding team.

Mrs. Lucille Wood, 13 Vandeventer Avenue, housewife: It'll go five games to make it interesting, but the Yankees, definitely, will win. There is no disputing they have a good team. They are the only ones that have enough money to buy good players. They always seem to be able to buy the best players when they need them.

Douglas Schuessler, Rocky Hill, contractor: I always lean toward the team that hasn't been up on top. I have nothing against the Yankees, and I think Roger Maris deserves a lot of credit, but I also think it is good for baseball to have other teams win once in a while. I think the series will run seven games with Cincinnati the winner.

Naylor DeCore, 147 Harmony Avenue, Trenton, barber. Jack Honore's The Yankees will win it in six. They have better hitters than Cincinnati. And the Yankees always win the games that count. They're the money players. They can break up any ballgame with the home run power they have.

Patrick Heacock, Kingston, part owner of gas station: Yanks in seven. I think the Yanks have better pitching and better hitting—what more do you need to win? Cincinnati doesn't have as much as the Yanks, but they'll probably win one or two games.

Dick Knowles, 362 Nassau Street, plumber: I say the Yankees in five. I think they have the better all-around team. There's too much power there. The whole team, right on down the list, can hit.

Pete Sannino, 16 Oakland Road, plumber: Cincinnati in six. I think the Yanks' front-line pitching is weaker than Cincinnati's. I think O'Toole will beat Ford, Jay will beat Stafford, and Purkey will beat Terry. The Yanks have a better relief pitcher in Arroyo, but he is the only good reliever they have. I also think Houk stays too long with his starters. Another thing that can make a big difference is that Cincinnati's pitching coach, Jim Turner, is a former pitching coach of the Yanks. Pitching is usually the most decisive factor in a short series and I think Cincinnati's pitchers will overcome the Yankees.

Rennie Owle, 1748 E. State Street, Trenton, car mechanic: New York. I think they're much better all-around. They have better pitching, better hitting. Cincinnati has some pretty good pitchers, too, but they don't have enough power behind the plate. I pick the Yanks in five.

William Novitsky, Hazelton, Pa., pipefitter: Cincinnati in four. They have the better pitching staff by far. Those Yankee hitters couldn't do anything against good pitching in both All-Star games this year.

DICK COLMAN
Tiger Football Coach

To have a real chance of staging an upset, a football team must believe in itself. Princeton matched a heavily-favored Rutgers eleven in touchdowns Saturday—and came close to defeating its more experienced opponent—because Dick Colman had done a standout job of instilling the proper outlook in his players.

All sorts of psychological factors were working against the Tigers. The season was still months away when a poll conducted by the Ivy League's directors of sports publicly relegated Princeton to a lowly-second division berth in the 1961 race.

Graduation hit the Orange and Black harder than in many a year, with the attrition seriously compounded by the fact that the current squad's senior strength is the weakest (only nine players) in three decades. "Princeton," said virtually every pre-season estimate, "is confronted with a rebuilding year and may be a whole season away from ability to cope with more than the two or three easiest teams on its schedule."

Dick Colman was a dissembler. He felt his team would be better than the raggedy-ann picture painted for it. His daily reports to the press told of players developing steadily, of depth becoming available in positions where even a good starter had been in doubt.

Sixteen miles upstate, Rutgers began to taste the pleasures of a fourth straight triumph and spoke with pride of its 204-lb. line and its "two potential all-Americans," Captain Alex Kroll and fullback Steve Simms. The Scarlet hoped to win by a couple of touchdowns, and pre-game estimates said largely that it had a right to think so.

From start to finish, however, Princeton controlled much of the action, dominated the statistics and knew that when the clock ran out with the losers deep in enemy territory, the roar that came from the Rutgers' side was as much one of relief as heralding victory.

Dick Colman was understandably frustrated by losing another of these tight games to Rutgers, and here is every reason to believe that the tide will turn for him in this rivalry next year. But right now, there is also clear indication that the forthright Tiger coach has his rebuilding job running far ahead of schedule.

chance of the day for victory when they opened the second-half with a 66-yard drive that fell two feet short of a touchdown. From a fourth-down situation inside the one-yard line, the traditional wedge play that sends the fullback hurdling over the line seemed indicated, and the Scarlet defense was not rigged to stop it. But the call was for Riley to skirt left end, tacklers knifed through at the crucial moment and he was spilled for no gain.

If it had scored that early in the second half, Princeton might still have followed the pattern of the game's final quarter, in which the teams again matched touchdowns. As it was, the visitors moved out to a 16-7 lead when another two-point conversion followed their second TD and that left the Tigers with more ground to make up than they could handle.

They did bounce back with a scoring gem, sophomore tailback Hugh MacMillan pitching out to Terpack and then going down the right side to take a reverse pass that produced a 58-yard touchdown. The Tigers got another chance with 70 seconds left, using times out to stop the clock as often as possible and going 41 yards to the Rutgers 24 before time ran out on them.

A record crowd for the Rutgers game (41,000) watched the action. Most Princetonians departed with the feeling that the Scarlet's upsurge which has produced four victories in a row is due to end a year from now.

Turning Point Ahead. As was written here in the summer football forecast, the Columbia game looms as a major turning point in the career of the 1961 Princeton team. If it can rebound to defeat the fired-up Lions, a place much higher than had been anticipated for it in the Ivy standings should follow.

The assignment is a difficult one, for Coach Buff Donelli has assets not known by the Lions since the bright era of 1945-47 found them studded with returning veterans. Columbia goes into the game Saturday with a veteran backfield, a deceptive attack, a good first line and more depth than the undermanned New Yorkers have enjoyed in a decade.

Princeton is still inexperienced, one good game performance notwithstanding. For the second week in a row, it will be operating against a bigger, more veteran team and one that wants to win this contest as much as any game on its schedule.

Belief here is that the Tigers can prevail, that the fast-jelling backfield has the running and passing ability to win what may well be a high-scoring game. For the 1961 Princetonians, the question of how long the rebuilding program will take is likely to be answered in the second game of the season.

LITTLE TIGERS BLANKED

By Frechold in Opener. The Princeton High School football team got off on the wrong foot Saturday when it dropped a 6-0 decision to Frechold High School at Frechold. Coach Joe Jurgoli reported it was the first time he could remember a PHS team being held scoreless since Peddie pulled the feat back in 1953.

If the Little Tigers are to make Jurgoli's 16th—and final—season a winning one, they must improve in a twinkling. Ahead lies Middletown Township, an always tough eleven outside the Mercer County environs. The game will be played Saturday at 2 at Middletown.

Last year in a thriller, PHS scored with less than two minutes to play to break a 7-7 tie and beat Middletown, 13-6. But the victory over the rugged north Jersey school took its toll: the following week, PHS went down to its first defeat, a 33-6 drubbing at the hand of Trenton Central.

In four fruitless quarters Saturday, PHS was the antithesis of the adage, practice makes perfect. The Blue and White was far from perfect and definitely needed more practice. This was echoed by Jurgoli who attributed the defeat to "just a matter of inexperience. All we need is a couple of more games under our belt," he added.

The outcome was decided early in the game. The home team scored in the first quarter on a rollout pass and run that covered 50 yards. Thereafter, the victors never threatened.

After floundering around midfield for three quarters, Princeton High nearly tied it up in the final period when fullback Charlie Pemberton raced from his own 50 to the Frechold five-yard line. The threat evaporated, however, when a backfield in motion penalty nullified the play.

Pemberton Standout. The burly, 190-pound fullback was the losers' chief offensive weapon all afternoon. Charlie, in going up the middle and around the ends, crossed virually every five-yard stripe on the field with the exception of Freehold's goal line. Another fine gain of his was nullified by an off side violation.

The weak spot in Princeton's offense, which still needs work, is the tailback position. Ron Panicaro and Don Cooper, who alternated against Freehold, need more experience in running and passing, Jingolet reported. Whether he can develop new tailback talent in the Jayvee squad is a problem Jingolet said he would be working on this week.

HUN JOLTS PENNINGTON
Faces Perkiomen Saturday
Currently up in the clouds following a decisive opening victory over Pennington, the Hun School football team better descend to reality before Saturday when it meets Perkiomen, according to Hun coach Hawley Waterman.

Waterman reported that the Perkiomen coach has told him that he was going to have a strong team this year. "And he is the type of person who wouldn't say such a thing unless it were true," Waterman added. The game, Perkiomen's first this fall, will be played at Perkiomen, starting at 2:30.

In its opener against Pennington School Saturday, it was all Hun. The Red and Black scored twice in the first period, once in the third, and twice more in the final period to trounce the Red Raiders, 36-0. Hun thus repaid in kind for the 25-0 shutout Pennington engineered last fall.

Against the visiting Raiders, Hun did not complete a single pass in four tries. (Two good ones were knocked down at the last second in the end zone.) It didn't have to.

Six free-wheeling Hun backs—Gary Grover, Joe D'Antona, Bob Kay, Tim Walsh, Doug Kirk, and Ned Allen—rolled over Pennington at will throughout the afternoon, amassing 340 yards in the process. In contrast, led by captains Pete and Paul Savidge, Hun's defensive unit held the losers to 67 yards rushing.

Grover Scores First. Hun started early. It took the opening kickoff and marched 61 yards in 11 plays for its first tally. Halfback Grover, who set up the drive with a 12-yard run, scored off tackle from four yards out. Walsh then carried over for a two-point play to put Hun in front 8-0.

Later in the first period, Hun marched 44 yards in seven plays for its second touchdown. The big play was a 15-yard romp off tackle by Grover, with Walsh sneaking over from the two for the six-pointer. Grover's plunge upped the score to 16-0.

Halted in the second period when Pennington stopped them on its 16, four, and 10-yard line, the winners crashed through again at the start of the third period. Paul Savidge recovered a Bill Miller fumble on the losers' 33 to set it up. Six plays later, it was 22-0. D'Antona joining the touchdown parade with a three-yard slant off tackle. The PAT attempt failed.

Late in the period, Coach Harold Poore's eleven started to click. Quarterback Steve Fox passed and ran his way to Hun's one foot line. But that last foot was denied them. Led by the defensive safety, Owen "Hap" Young, who was in on all four tackles, Hun frustrated all of Pennington's four shots at the goal.

D'Antona Breaks Loose. On the next play, the first of the fourth quarter, D'Antona raced from Hun's four to the Pennington 33. Walsh capped the march with a scoring sweep around end, after three running plays had carried the ball to the losers' 18. Hun's final touchdown came when defensive back Doug Kirk intercepted a Fox pass on his own 33 and ran the remaining 67 yards unmolested. Ned Allen's plunge for the PAT made it a 36-0 final.

"It was a team effort," said Waterman after the victory. "Walsh called a very good game and the line opened big holes whenever our backs needed a few yards for a first down. The whole team was tackling well; we kept Pennington in check by our relentless pursuit on every play." The Hun coach summed it up by saying, "The boys looked very good all day."

LARRIES AT BLAIR
Going For 23rd Without Loss
Lawrenceville's football team will travel to Blairtown on Saturday, seeking to extend its undefeated string to 23 games at the expense of Blair Academy. The Larries opened their season Saturday with a 48-38 victory over St. Benedict's.

Scoring two touchdowns in each period, the Red and Black rolled up 409 yards on the ground while defeating the Newarkers. Linn Morrow scored for Lawrenceville on runs of 50 and 42 yards, and Brian Bruel also tallied twice for the Larries.

St. Benedict's, behind 36-14 at the end of the third period, rallied for three touchdowns and 24 points in the last quarter to cut Lawrenceville's margin of victory to ten points. Frank Consentino scored all three fourth-period touchdowns for St. Benedict's and completed 23 of 33 passes during the game.

Passes for two-point conversions failed after each Lawrenceville touchdown. The Larries were playing their first game under Coach John Reydel. St. Benedict's now has a 1-1 record.

SAILING FIRSTS TAKEN
By Bernard and Wilson. In the three races held on Lake Carnegie Sunday by the Carnegie Sailing Club, John Bernard finished first twice and Bob Wilson took the third.

Bernard's double win enabled him to capture top honors with an aggregate point score of 39.4. In second place was Dick Grace with 34.3.

Following were Walt Jefferson and Walt Foster, both 33.4, Bob Wilson, 33; Phil

Mitchell's Evasions Hit

To The Editor of Town Topics:

In The New York Times for Wednesday, September 27, 1961, p. 31, Mr. Mitchell, the Republican candidate for the governorship of New Jersey, is reported to have told an audience in Paterson on the preceding day that a debate in a political campaign can be a "circus," and that speeches in such a debate are "uninformative." With these words he dismissed the charge of Mr. Hughes, the Democratic candidate, that he was avoiding debate because he feared to face the people.

Mr. Mitchell's language at Paterson has a strange sound to American ears. His own party has the best reasons for remembering the Lincoln-Douglas debates in the campaign for the senatorship of Illinois in 1858.

It has not been the verdict of history that those debates were uninformative and a mere demonstration of acrobatic skill on a tightrope. To be sure, Lincoln and Douglas were aware that they were engaged in a first-rate political drama. But each was unafraid to stand face to face with his opponent on the public platform and to trade arguments in the open, in an effort to provide the voters with a rational basis for judgment between men and issues on election day.

We all vividly remember the television debates of a year ago between Mr. Nixon and Mr. Kennedy. Are these debates, which did credit to both participants, to be dismissed contemptuously as acrobatics and clowning?

Were they uninformative? Were they not rather a brilliant example of the successful use of television in extending from ocean to American ocean the dimensions of a series of local political conversations between rival candidates, and thus in adding new effectiveness to the difficult procedure of fairly balancing one candidate's philosophy and character against another's?

It would seem to me that

Mr. Mitchell's refusal to meet Mr. Hughes in open debate is an abdication of a candidate's historic responsibilities to the voters. I cannot admire Mr. Mitchell's stand on this matter, and I cannot swallow the evasions that he used Paterson to justify that stand.

Let him face Mr. Hughes. The voters will decide whether he puts on a circus—and whether his speeches are uninformative.

It may be interesting to our residents to peruse the latest following facts. Our latest bulletin from National Red Cross indicates that the final cost to Red Cross will be in the area of 5 million dollars. You may be interested in a few statistical facts:

Emergency medical care, 2209 families; Homes totally destroyed, 1708 families; Minor damage to homes, 46,979 families; Other than homes destroyed, 1052 families; Families needing assistance, 17,400 families; Refugees provided - food, shelter and clothing, 251,886 families.

We have not included in the above figure the countless number of fishing, shrimp and crabbing boats lost. It is impossible to guess how long the rehabilitation period will take. We are advised that the enormity of the task defies description, but your Red Cross will stay on the job until the basic needs of the last applicant are met.

So you see why we are so grateful for the contributions and have forwarded all monies to the American National Red Cross.

HORSE SHOW SUNDAY

At Pine Brae Club. A horse show for the benefit of the U.S. Equestrian Team will be held Sunday at the Pine Brae Club on Route 518, the Blawie-Rocky Hill Road. It will start at 9:30, rain or shine.

In addition to jumping and horsemanship classes, there will be a costume class, a driving class and a family class. Refreshments will be available.

BOWLING NOTES

New League Sanctioned. The Educational Testing Service League opened its new season last week, becoming sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress for the first time. The King Pins, Operators, Rowleweels, Research 1 and Research II all won two games on opening night to tie for the lead in other Princeton bowling action. Shelton Motors (20) held a one-game margin over Yeoman's and the Princeton Inn in the "A" League.

Ivy Inn (19) was only one point ahead of Edwards Engraving and Kase Kleeners in the tight "B" loop race, and Tiger Garage had a one-and-a-half game lead over the Crescents (15) in the Industrial League, with the Reformers (10) running third in the Classic loop, Princeton Market (13) won two and tied one game to stay two points ahead of Bud's Sporting Goods, and three ahead of Pine Tree Bar.

Amron Homes (20) maintained a one-game margin over Craft Cleaners and the Hills and Misses in the Women's League, with Conover Motors (16) and Cranbury Bank (15) still very much in the race. Jefferson Plumbing (28) topped the Women's Industrial loop, running a game ahead of Ideal and four games ahead of Gale Cleaners.

Vince Gregg posted the top individual game of the week with a 246 and 601 series in the "A" League. Other notable scores included Bob Seuler, 245; Sheldon Zabel, 218; Fred Goeke, 207; Fred Proccacini, 206; and Al Hubbard, 201, in the "A" loop; and Frank Delneso, 228; John Balestrieiro, 225 and a 601 series; and Joe Baldino, 213, in the "B" League.

Other high scores included Gene LaVigne, 218; Pros Aeschbacher, 207; Norman Luck, 206; Red Holmes, 204; and Dave Compton, 200, in the Industrial circuit; and Joe Ruberto, 231, and Joe Baldino, 204-201, in the Classic League. Barbara Danser led the Women's Industrial loop with 208, followed by Lillian Burrough, 204; Betty Frazee, 198-182; Evelyn Walton, 185; and Sara Rose, 181. Lois Cooper hit 186 in the Women's League, followed by Betty Toto, 185; Sara, Rose, 182, and Sis Snyder, 180.

PHS SEEKS ADMISSION

To South Central League. Princeton High School has applied for admission to the South Central Jersey League. The step was revealed by the Director of Athletics, Joseph Jingoli, who said, "Practically all teams in the area belong to some league and we find it impossible to stay an independent."

The athletic director, who also doubles as head football coach of the Little Tigers, further reported that three schools on Princeton High's 1961 schedule have given notice that they will not be able to play Princeton next year because of conference scheduling. The three—all outside Mercer County—are Long Branch, Middletown Township and Freehold. Each is a member of a football conference.

These defections would leave PHS with only four opponents for 1962. With so many schools having to meet conference foes, Princeton is finding itself shunned. "Or else six schools will offer us the same open date," said Jingoli.

South Jersey officials are expected to make a decision on Princeton's application in the near future. The addition of the Little Tigers would raise the number of teams in the Mercer-Burlington league to ten.

News Of The CHURCHES

UNITARIANS TO INSTALL

New Minister. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas will give the installation address at the Unitarian Church this Sunday when the Rev. Robert L. Cope is installed as the church's new minister. The ceremonies will be held at 4 p.m. at the church, Cherry Hill and Route 206.

Justice Douglas will speak on "America at Home and Abroad." Other participants in the service will be the Rev. Benjamin J. Anderson, Witherspoon Presbyterian Church, who will deliver a welcome to the Princeton community; Dr. J. Douglas Brown, Dean of the Faculty, who will give a welcome from Princeton University; and the Rev. Dale DeWitt, regional director of the Middle Atlantic States Unitarian Council who will give the Charge to the Congregation. Rowan Boone, president of the church, will give the Charge to the Minister.

The Rev. Mr. Cope has come to Princeton from the Theological School Faculty, St. Lawrence University. Previously he served the Universalist Churches in New York City, and Buffalo and the Unitarian Universalist Church of Amherst, New York.

SEMINARIAN NAMED

To Homiletics Post. Dr. Donald Macleod, Canadian-born Scot who has been a member of the Princeton Seminary faculty since 1947, has been appointed professor of homiletics.

Dr. Macleod came to Princeton in 1945, serving as a teaching fellow for a year before being appointed assistant professor. From 1935 to 1939, he was a teaching fellow in Dalhousie University, Halifax, and from 1943 to 1945 he was a don and a senior tutor in Victoria College, Toronto. His publications include "Here Is My Method," "Word and Sacrament," and numerous articles, sermons and reviews. He is editor of the Princeton Seminary Bulletin.

YOUNG ADULTS INVITED

Single Only. Single young adults in the Princeton area are invited to attend the first meeting of a new United Young Adults' Fellowship, formed to offer "Christian fellowship and intelligent discussion of problems facing the Christian in today's society."

The first meeting will be held this Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Parish House, Trinity Episcopal Church. Dr. Kenneth L. Maxwell of the World Council of Churches will speak, and refreshments will be served. All single adults above high school age are invited.

Programs may include, as the group assumes form, discussions on music or art, guest speakers, book, play or film reviews and purely social activities.

Members of six churches in Princeton have been involved in the organization of the new group. These churches are the First and Second Presbyterian, Calvary Baptist, Messiah Lutheran, Trinity Episcopal and Princeton Methodist. Additional information may be obtained from Ralph Nelson, WA 1-6600, ext. 784, or WA 1-2936.

LATIN AMERICA IN FOCUS

Of Princeton Methodists. The Methods of Princeton will focus on Latin America in three church-wide family night forums to be held on October 15, 22 and 29.

The program will start each Sunday evening at 5 with a short fellowship program. A light supper will be served following the speaker's address from 5:30 to 6:30. Nursery care for small children will be provided.

The October 15 speaker will be Dr. James E. Ellis, co-author with Miss Marian Derby of the book, "Latin American Lands . . . in Focus." Miss Derby will address the third forum, October 29. The middle meeting will be addressed by Joel E. Nystrom who was for 10 years executive secretary of the South American Federation of YMCA and Director of the YMCA College in Montevideo in Uruguay.

Dear TRAVELEX,

Ahoy all you Ratchelers and Ratchelorettes! Have you ever been on a Ratchel Party Cruise or Tour? They're wonderful fun! Matson Lines has a terrific selection of dates to choose from. You may go either by air or by steamer whichever you prefer. You may go one way and return the other if you like. There are special Christmas and New Year's Jet Tours, and on January 17 and February 14 there is a 25% discount on the MATSONIA and LURENI steamers. These dates apply to the sailing dates from Los Angeles.

These tours are not a "Lonely Hearts" type of thing. They are simply groups of the same age group who enjoy having fun. Everything except your own personal expenses, laundry, gifts, etc. is included in the tour price. Your stowage, air transportation, hotels, meals, evening entertainment, sightseeing, transportation, transfers, tour guide, baggage, and even tipping are all taken care of.

Emphasis is on parties and people rather than just just places, although you will see lots of exciting sights on a leisurely cruise on the "Captain Cook" along the Kona Coast. You'll go to Kona, but you'll spend most of your time in Honolulu on Waikiki Beach—surfing, swimming, and having a marvelous time at Luau's and beach parties and oh my goodness just relaxing!

As ever,

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Greta Lubig Knudsen; a son, Martin W. of Trenton; and four sisters in Denmark.

The service was held in Plainfield with the Rev. Frederick L. Van Steen officiating. Interment was in Hillside Cemetery, Plainfield.

Topics Of The Town

SOCIAL SECURITY TOPIC
Of Business Club Meeting.
The first meeting this fall of the Business and Professional Women's Club will be held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Theodore Potts.

John J. Monteverde of the Social Security Administration will discuss "New Social Security Laws." Non-members may attend the meeting by calling Mrs. Potts at WA 4-1803.

WILPE TO MEET

This Tuesday, the public is invited to the first meeting this fall of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom at the home of Mrs. Loren B. Johnson, 101 Overbrook Drive. The meeting will be held Tuesday at 8:15 p.m.

Some of the topics the group will discuss this year are the Berlin controversy, recognition of Communist China, civilian defense against nuclear war and migrant worker problem.

CIVIL DEFENSE THEME
Of West Windsor Meeting.
The PTA of West Windsor Township will meet next Wednesday at 8 p.m. to hear Mrs. Thomas Powner talk on her family's experience during two weeks in a fall-out shelter last year. The meeting will be held in the West Windsor School auditorium.

Dr. Jack Vernon, director of "Project Hideaway" in which the Powner family participated, will be present for the question period. He is associate professor of psychology at Princeton and a member of the advisory board of the National Academy of Science, which advises the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

Mrs. A. C. Reeves Hicks is chairman of the PTA's new Civil Defense Committee, which is responsible for the program and poster display. Civil defense pamphlets and materials will be distributed at the meeting.

KOPPELMAN ON EXHIBIT
At Rina Gallery. Rina Gallery, 11 Charlton Street, has opened its fall season with an exhibition of paintings by Dorothy Koppelman. The exhibit will run through October.

There are 13 canvases in the show, mostly figures, which are expressionist in temperament and often show a social consciousness. Mrs. Koppelman's austere simple composition blends well with the fervor of her forms; her sophisticated use of open spaces and blue tones in seeming of some canvases prepare the viewer for violence in others.

The highlight of the show is "Crucifixion." Another provocative painting is titled, "Consideration of the Desires hility of Throwing Caution to the Winds."

Mrs. Koppelman has studied the philosophy of Aesthetic Realism with its founder, Eli Siegel, since 1942. Her work has been exhibited at the Brooklyn and Riverside Museums and the Nonagon and Mareh Galleries in New York.

YOUTH GROUPS POPULAR
YMCA Offers Wide Variety.
The classes and club groups offered by the Princeton YMCA for its younger members are filling up rapidly, according to Charles A. Hurford, chairman of the Youth Committee.

A brand new tribe of father and son Y-Indian Guiders has been started by the Princeton Longhouse Y Indian Guide. This group will meet Tuesday at 6 at the home of John S. Mount, 116 Magnolia Lane.

Other clubs being formed or reopening in which there are still openings are the Adventure Club, Arts and Crafts, Princeton Gray-Y and Pioneer Gray-Y. The Trailblazers, a swim program; the radio club, the Junior Hi-Y, gymnastics club, Aero-Rocket Club, a wrestling class, and the Flying Fish Club. The age limits for each club and additional information may be obtained at the Y office on Avalon place (WA 4-4825).

Pewter Tankards
by Viners of Sheffield

FULL 20 oz. SIZE $5.95 REGULARLY $7.50

Viners Tankards are made of the finest quality pewter, completely lead-free and highly resistant to acids. Being hygienically pure, they can be used domestically with complete confidence. Hand-burnished to a gleaming finish, they always make ideal gifts that will not tarnish. Beer and Ale tastes better in a Viners Pewter Tankard.

ELIZABETH JAMES SAYS:
"Breath taking and a bargain! 81 acres along the Delaware River including fertile fields, woods, a charming pre-revolutionary fieldstone house, perfectly remodeled, excellent barn, constitutes some of the ingredients which make this an exciting listing. The house, which dates from early 18th century, has beamed ceilings, random width floors and hand-wrought hardware. There is a large living room with fireplace, dining room with walk-in fireplace, modern kitchen on the first floor. Four bedrooms and bath. The setting, with the river in the background, is lovely with nice lawn, beautiful shrubs and old shade trees. An excellent value 81 acres plus for $81,000."
